“...Lord bless and sanctify those you love the beauty of your house...”

The Voice of Your Church

(Poem found in the original St Andrew dedication book dated May 28, 1967. No author listed.)

I am your church.

I am here because you erected me. I am beautifully situated in your midst. In the center of your growing community I will be a cherished landmark to the thousands who will come to my doors in the coming years.

I am your church.

You built me because you knew that your life would be incomplete, that it would not be full without me.

I am your church because I am here to serve you.

Your children and growing youth will come to me to be taught the ways of honesty, industry, morality and religion.

Your brides and grooms will come to my altar that their wedlock may be hallowed and sweetened by divine blessings.

I comfort your sick and sorrowing; I bury your dead and offer rest and solace to the weary.

Pardon and peace are my gift to the sin-burdened soul and my message of mercy brings new life.

To the aged I give courage and quiet, and cause their children to call them blessed.

I am your church.

My doors will swing open to all – rich, poor, bond, free.

My pulpit rings out the message of good will, of peace and pardon and the Savior's love for all.

I teach you the ways of life and guide you on the road to heaven.

I am your church.

Therefore, make me worthy of your support and concern. Come, worship with me and support me and I will serve you all your day.

I am your church.
